Dear Fair Political Practices Commission:

I am an 11 year-old boy scout in Troop # 24 of Napa, California. My job this week is to write a letter expressing my feelings on an article I have read in the newspaper. The issue I am addressing is the article that says house property in the town of Yountville, California, should have a 500 foot circle around the house. I think it is a good idea to have people take more property, but not that much. I agree with town attorney Diane Price, that it should be reduced to 300 feet. Most yards where I live are tiny. My mom always jokes around about it too. She says that if someone from one house is going to the bathroom and needs a roll of toilet paper, they could yell to their neighbor and ask them for some, and the neighbor could throw to him/her! I am just telling you my opinion on the debate.

Sincerely,

Michael Pickett
